For The Last Tuesday Society's winter show, Alice Herrick & Viktor Wynd will transform the gallery into a Rousseauesque jungle, filled with a wondrous selection of perfect stocking fillers - photography, paintings, drawings and prints representing a contemporary Bestiary: regal beasts, enchanted forests, curious creatures and jewelled nature.

The exhibition will also feature old master and modern etchings from Mr. Wynd's private collection, including works by Leonora Carrington. The centre of the gallery will be filled with a menagerie of taxidermied animals, including polar bear, lion and a little camel, with cabinets by Gunn, Roland Ward, Gerard & Walter Potter amongst lush tropical foliage, orchids and ferns, as Mr. Wynd empties out his apartment with one of England's finest private collections of taxidermy and prepares to emigrate to warmer climes in January.
